

Disaster relief and non-governmental organizations working in Haiti

- Action Against Hunger has mobilized an emergency response and has teams already on the ground, assessing and responding to needs;
- You can make a donation through the American Red Cross' International Response Fund, and it will be allocated specifically for Haiti relief efforts;
- CARE, a leading humanitarian organization fighting global poverty, also needs donations for its on-ground work in Haiti;
- The Clinton Bush Haiti Fund brings together President Bill Clinton and President George W. Bush (at the request of President Barack Obama) to raise funds for high-impact relief for the long-term. Donations are accepted online here;
- Doctors Without Borders needs donations to provide crucial medical treatment and supplies;
- Habitat for Humanity has been working in Haiti for 26 years and will be sending a team to assess the impact on affordable housing after the earthquake. To make a donation, go here;
- The Lions Clubs International Foundation is working through local Lions clubs members in Haiti. To make an online donation, go here and select Disaster, including "LCIF Haiti Earthquake Relief" in the comments section;
- Mercy Corps has a way for you to donate your money straight to its efforts in Haiti;
- The Pan American Development Foundation is the disaster relief arm of the Organization of American States. It has been in Haiti for over 30 years, and currently has over 150 people on the ground there. Go here to make an online donation or call 877-572-4484;
- Partners in Health (Paul Farmer's organization), which has been on the ground in Haiti for over 20 years, works hard to "minimize overhead and truly focuses on getting help to people who need it," reader jmlinton says. To support its efforts with a donation, go here;
- Project HOPE, which provide medical supplies and health care services to those in need, is seeking donations for its aid efforts in Haiti;
- Quisqueya International Organization Freedom & Development, founded by a former Peace Corps volunteer, is on-the-ground, assisting with relief efforts;
- Save the Children says that at least 2 million children or more have been affected by the earthquake. Donate online or by phone at 1-800-728-3843 to support their efforts to help Haitian children and families;
- UNICEF is working hard to help Haiti's children. To donate to its ongoing emergency relief efforts, visit the website or call 1-800-4UNICEF;
- Staff from the United Nations Foundation is currently on the ground, and its United Nations Central Emergency Response Fund (CERF) is accepting donations toward these relief and recovery efforts. Donations can be made online here;
- The United Nations World Food Program has teams "already on the scene, mobilizing emergency food assistance to families." To support these efforts, you can make an emergency donation here;
- The United Way is accepting online donations to its United Way Worldwide Disaster Fund, which will directly benefit relief efforts in Haiti;
- YeLe Haiti, an organization set up by musician Wyclef Jean, a native Haitian, is an additional option. Though, you may want to read this post first about the controversy surrounding the charity.

Faith-based organizations:

- American Jewish World Service is collecting donations for its "Haiti Earthquake Relief Fund," which will help "their network of grantees in Haiti to meet the urgent needs of the population based on real-time, on-the-ground assessments;"

- Baptist Global Response, which coordinates the mercy efforts of the Southern Baptist Convention, is sending a team from Florida to help for its initial outreach. In addition to donations, the organization asks that concerned individuals join in focused prayer for Haiti's 9 million people;
- Catholic Relief Services \(CRS\) has made an initial commitment of $5 million for immediate use in the relief effort. According to its press release, the CRS offices in Port-au-Prince, Haiti, "were shaken, with some damage to the compound walls, but there were no injuries in the building." Donations can be made via the website or by phone at 1-877-HELP-CRS 1-877-HELP-CRS 1-877-HELP-CRS ;
- Christian Aid Ministries, an Amish-Mennonite organization, has had staff and a distribution network in Haiti for over 20 years. To help earthquake survivors, they are providing search and rescue operations, emergency supplies such as medicines and food, and later on rebuilding of houses. Donations are being accepted through mail, credit card, or by phone at 330-893-2428;
- Compassion International, the world's largest Christian child development program, serves 64,000 sponsored children in Haiti, most near the earthquake zone. The website allows donors to earmark contributions for Haiti;
- The Episcopal Diocese of New York, which has Haitian congregations and a partnership with the Episcopal Diocese of Haiti, is collecting aid both through the diocese and through the national denomination's Episcopal Relief and Development;
- Islamic Relief USA, in coordination with The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, is flying a $1 million shipment of aid to Haiti. To donate to the "Haiti Emergency" fund, make a donation online or by phone at 888-479-4968;
- The Lutheran Church Missouri -- Synod along with the mercy arm, LCMS World Relief and Human Care, announced it was making an initial grant of tens of thousands of dollars available to meet emergency needs. Support its efforts by making a donation here;
- The North American Mission Board for the Southern Baptists has more than more than 90,000 trained disaster relief volunteers and more than 2,000 disaster relief units including feeding, water purification, showers, laundry and communications. To support its efforts in Haiti, donate to the Haiti Relief Fund or call 866-407-6262;
- Operation Blessing International also has disaster relief teams on the way. A donation of $50 or more will bring emergency food, water, medicine and more to the quake victims;
- The Salvation Army is also sending personnel and supplies to assist in the relief effort and is in need of donations;
- Samaritan's Purse, the international aid and development group headed by Rev. Franklin Graham, landed a medical supplies flight with teams of emergency medical workers Wednesday morning and will begin pouring in additional aid as needs become clear.
- The United Methodist Committee on Relief \(UMCOR\) has long been working in Haiti. To support their its efforts, go here;
- World Vision, a Christian humanitarian charity organization, is also working to help children and families devastated by the quake. To learn more about its efforts and to donate, visit the website.
-